A STROKE OF GENIUS

CONGRATULATIONS!

To Lou, Mike, John, Brian, and Tony who rowed an open 4 in the National Collegiate Rowing Championships in Cincinnati, OH on June 12. They finished a close 5th with a time of 7:58.78 behind CRC, Orlando, Atlanta, and CRC.

To everybody! for getting us "out of the hole." Pat Kennedy said we turned in about $900. We're all set for next year (with some receipts still outstanding). However, we still need a fundraiser for next year to 'keep our heads above water'! Let Jen or Cindy know if you have any ideas: Row-a-thons, T-shirts, or food, or whatever. Give us your input!

YA GOTTA REGATTA...

Cleveland Sprints (September 18): To be held about a month after we return, please be ready to practice before classes begin!

Head of the Ohio (October 2): Anyone interested in rowing this 2.5-3 mile course in Pittsburgh call Karen Glowacki (1-800-321-6984 ext. 5001). If you intend on rowing return early to get in some practice time before studies begin.

Speakmon (October 30): This will probably be the main focus of the season for novices. This race is awful close to the end of the month so a lot of us may have to be entered in open races. Call Karen in regards to your racing status. Let's carry some medals home from this trip to Columbus!

Other trips...

Some interest has been expressed in traveling to Boston to observe the Head of the Charles on Sunday October 24. If you can drive or just want to go, drop me a letter. There are a number of other races this summer (especially in the Northeast and Midwest). Here are a few:

World University Games: July 14-18

St. Catherines, Ontario, Canada

American Rowing Championships: July 22-25,

Topeka, Kansas.

US Olympic Festival: July 22-27, San Antonio, Texas.

National Team Trials: July 30-Aug. 1 Mercer County, NJ

Royal Canadian Henley: August 4-8

St. Catherines, Ontario, Canada

OTHER STUFF...

I have 2 extra "crew wisdom" T-shirts that I got from BackSplash at the NCRC. They are printed on both sides and are $15 apiece. I will also be getting 4 "Absolut Crew" shirts from the Pittsburgh crew. These will be $11 after shipping. Send a check (yes, more money) to Cindy to reserve a shirt. (I will be bringing these to Cleveland in the fall, but I only have six!)

The novices from the Spring semester are really impressive. Let's have a great recruitment this Fall and boost numbers. We want VARSITY status! Have those ideas ready for the Club fair!
